

ONLINE

You don't know what you're getting into online, when you're talking.

Every day you go online and it could be bad or good!

There's a chance that they could be really mean,

No people that you have spoken to or seen,

They say they really know you, but they don't know at all,

They say they can't meet up with you and their friends won't understand.